To Make The Home Beautiful

Does not always require the expenditure of a large sum of money. This depends largely upon judgment, taste, economy and skill. Nothing adds more to the appearance of the home than good paint, properly applied. Then it protects and preserves the property—that is if you buy the right kind. The best is the cheapest. Masury's is excelled by none. Call on us for Outside Paint, Inside Paint, Carriage Paint, Roof Paint, (Flexible Carbon, 50 cents per gallon.) Japalac, Liquid Veneer and everything in this line that makes old things look new. Prescriptions filled with care and delivered anywhere in town.

Company H. Will go into camp at Earlinton with the Third regiment on August 9th. The boys will leave under the command of Capt. DeWeese and Lieut. Woodward and march to Beaver Dam at 8 o'clock a. m., in time to take the 11:30 train. A fine target range has been laid out at Earlinton and the boys will have an unusual opportunity for target practice.

We have been so overwhelmed with obituaries, memory notices and resolutions of respect during this and the past few weeks, that we are compelled to call attention to our rule providing for charges on such notices in excess of 150 words. We have of times stated in these columns that such contributions, in excess of 150 words are charged for, at the rate of one cent per word, and that money to pay for this excess must accompany the manuscript when sent in. Unless this rule is adhered to we will be compelled to cut down the articles to this limit or omit them from our publication.

Dr. L. D. F. Whittaker, who for the past several years has been located at Maxwell, Ky., has moved to Simmons, Ky. Dr. Whittaker is a young physician of splendid attainments and will no doubt command large practice in his new field.

Mr. Bud Paxton died at the home of Mr. Sam Taylor, Beaver Dam, Wednesday night after a lingering illness of consumption. Mr. Paxton was a son of Mr. Rice Paxton, who formerly lived in Hartford. He is survived by many relatives and friends.

The family received a letter yesterday written Wednesday from Mr. G. B. Williams mention of whose going to Chicago to consult a specialist was made in these columns last week, stating that he was feeling quite well after undergoing an operation Tuesday. He wrote in a quite cheerful spirit indicating that he felt confident of a speedy recovery.

The Louisville Chemical Co. of Louisville, Ky., a corporation chartered by the State of West Virginia, and authorized to do a general business in its special lines with a capital of $50,000.00 has two representatives, Messrs. W. M. Viser and G. L. Webb in Hartford with headquarters at Mrs. Yelzers. These gentlemen are making a practical demonstration of the value and saleability of the company's preparations to the housekeepers of Hartford and of the county generally. They have a most valuable and attractive proposition in the way of a business connection with the Company to make to any one in Hartford or the county, who would like to get into some business that pays well. The Company can give the best of references and Messrs. Viser and Webb would be glad to take the matter up with any one interested and go into further details.

A Good woman Gone.

Mrs. Nancy Skillman Haynes King, widow of the late Wm. C. King, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emma Hudson, last Thursday evening, July 22nd, after a long illness. Mrs. King was one of the faithful, devoted women that holds the world together and insures peace and happiness to all mankind. She was a devoted wife, a kind, painstaking mother and a faithful Christian. When her husband came home from a hospital with his good right arm mangled on one of the bloody fields of the civil war his faithful wife became, not only his arm but his inspiration and proved herself a help-mate indeed and in truth. After his death some years later she took up the burden alone and kept her family of 9 children together and brought them up in the "Nurture and admonition of the Lord." She lived in accord with the exhortation of the apostle Paul to be "Not slothful in business, fervent in spirit; serving the Lord, rejoicing in hope, patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer." She lived the life of a Christian; she died as only the Christian dies.
